

What should I know when starting Latin 2 at Harker?

Students entering Latin 2 should be able to consistently and accurately:

- Decline nouns (masculine, feminine, and neuter) of all five declensions
Exception: neuter nouns of the fourth declension
- Decline adjectives, both 1st/2nd declension and 3rd declension
- Decline personal pronouns (ego, tū, nōs, vōs)
- Decline reflexive pronoun (sē)
- Decline relative pronoun (quī)
- Decline demonstrative pronouns (hic, ille, is)
- Conjugate regular verbs of all conjugations in the present, imperfect, perfect, and pluperfect active indicative, and in the singular and plural imperative
- Conjugate the irregular verbs esse, posse, velle, nōlle, īre, and ferre in the present, imperfect, perfect, and pluperfect active indicative

In Latin 1, we complete units 1 & 2 of Cambridge Latin Course. Students entering Latin 2 are expected to have a solid mastery of the vocabulary in the stage checklists of these textbooks. Mastery typically means knowing the definition of words AND knowing all important lexical information (e.g. principal parts of verbs, genitive singular forms and genders of nouns, etc.)

What should I know when starting Latin 3 at Harker?

Students entering Latin 3 should be able to do everything expected of students entering Latin 2 AND should be able to consistently and accurately:

- Decline neuter nouns of the fourth declension
- Form & Decline comparative and superlative adjectives
- Convert adjectives to adverbs, keeping the same degree
- Decline intensive pronoun ipse and demonstrative pronoun īdem
- Conjugate irregular verbs and regular verbs of all conjugations in the future and future perfect active indicative, and in all tenses of the passive indicative
- Conjugate irregular verbs and regular verbs of all conjugations in the imperfect and pluperfect subjunctive, both active and passive
- Form and decline present active, future active, and perfect participles

In Latin 2, we complete unit 3 of Cambridge Latin Course. Students entering Latin 3 are expected to have a solid mastery of the vocabulary in the stage checklists of these textbooks. Mastery typically means knowing the definition of words AND knowing all important lexical information (e.g. principal parts of verbs, genitive singular forms and genders of nouns, etc.)

